

“The social Web is incredibly good at shining bright lights into dark corners...”

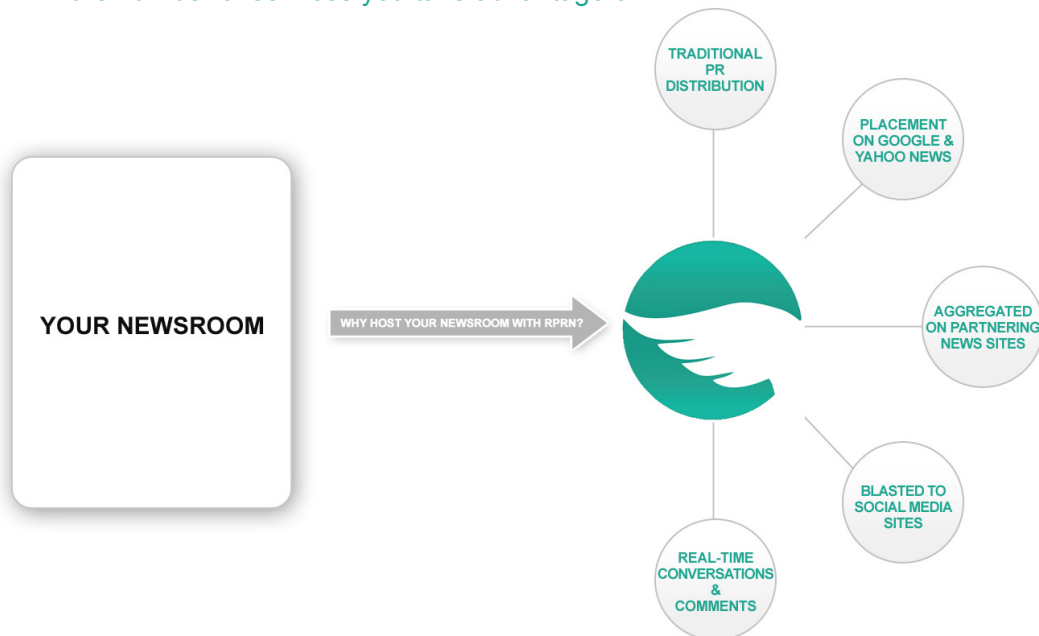

- Dave Evans

RUSHPRNEWS CORPORATE PRESSROOM

The Corporate Pressroom is tailored-made to fit your corporate communication needs. The Corporate Pressroom, as a white label service, is designed to integrate seamlessly into your existing website, and is hosted by us. RPRN remains an invisible partner, guiding and distributing your communiqués to various outlets, putting the power of online PR in your hands without abandoning the traditional methods of press release distribution.

Your news stories, besides published in your pressroom, are published on the rushprnews.com front page, where they sit next to our original content and are picked up by various newsfeeds, and along our exclusive media network ensuring that you speak to both media and consumers alike.

As a fully customizable online platform, packages range in price determined by the number of services you take advantage of.
