Teams. Dragon boating has been gaining in popularity worldwide and is emerging as the survivor's sport of choice.

HAMILTON, ON (RPRN) 10/01/12
— MASTECTOMY LINGERIE
AND MORE announces Chemo
Savvy - www.chemosavvy.ca – from Winnipeg Manitoba as the winners of the $2000 grand prize in the 2012 All Up Take It Away promotion. All Up – Take It Away was conceived to support the 2012 Canadian Breast Cancer
Survivor (BCS) Dragon Boat

BCS dragon boat teams activities are typically funded by team members, donations, and sponsors. In some cases, teams are registered charities and can issue tax receipts for donations that they receive. Whether these teams exist to promote awareness, or raise money as a charity they all foster fitness, camaraderie, friendship and provide a support network through fellowship with team members.

According to Sue Teschke, store owner “As a survivor myself supporting breast cancer survivors is something I feel strongly about. We have staff members and suppliers who are paddlers on the local dragon boat team Knot-A-Breast and I have seen first-hand the popularity and fitness benefits of BCS Dragon Boating. I wanted to help raise awareness of the sport, while at the same time helping out the teams themselves.” With this in mind the All Up – Take It Away promotion evolved.

If you are a breast cancer survivor and would like to find more information on joining a team you can view the teams who registered at www.mlam.ca, or visit the International Breast Cancer Paddlers commission website, www.ibcpc.com, to locate a team near you.
