

BagButton Debuts There New, Hang or not to Hang, Vacuum Storage Bags

July 2, 2013

South Bend, WA. (rushPRnews)
07/02/13 — This all new vacuum storage bag, designed and built by BagButton will have you asking the question, to hang or not to hang?

BagButton LLC, Inventor of the innovative “BagButton” that takes ordinary household plastic bags and turns them into space saving storage bags, continues to expand its New premium line of space saving Bags “BagButton airLock’s” To Hang or not to Hang?

BagButton’s all new space saving bag design is both space reducing and multifunctional. Space saver bags can hold up to four times more clothing and bedding than conventional storage boxes, trunks and bins, offering options for extra storage in closets, bedrooms, garage, attic and recreational vehicles. Vacuum space saving bags will also protect packed items from dirt, water, bugs, mildew, and odors.

This insightful new “patent pending” storage bag design combines both, vacuum storage bag and hanging vacuum storage bags to achieve its multifunctional options. The new bags can be used with or with out the provided hanger. They come in two convenient sizes for a variety of storage options – remove the hanger and they become Stackable for closets, shelves and Under-beds allowing users to efficiently utilize storage space. Insert the hanger and users can hang them in the closet on the wall, door, attic, basement, car, RV and garage.

“Lets face it, our jumbo bags are very large and you may be hard pressed to find a shelf big enough to store it on.” said Larry Storey, President at BagButton LLC. “So here at BagButton we came up with the idea of add a hanger to our large and jumbo bags with the unique design option of being able to removing the hanger if the need to use it with out a hanger was required or desired, giving the consumer the option to hang or not to hang there storage bags. The new BagButton airLock, to hang or not to hang, vacuum storage bags are simply the best space saving bag on the market.” Added Mr. Storey “They are twice as thick as most storage bags and made with the newest plastic and nylon polymers available in today’s market place. Our bags are soft, pliable and better suited for harsher environments. They have a new thicker seam design with the improved double zip lock closure and come with our new patented one way valve. Space saving bags just can’t get better than this.”

BagButton LLC is the inventor, and manufacturer of the Worlds most economical vacuum sealed storage bag system using household plastic bags for storage organization. With more than 10 million BagButtons sold in the past 8 years, plus the new line of BagButton airLock vacuum space saving bags and there continued online advertising campaigns, BagButton has established itself as one of the most recognizable storage products, and consumer loyal brands worldwide.
