03/14/14 — More than 18 million men over the age of 20 could benefit from male enhancement pills. And now one Mississauga, Ontario company called Bell Lifestyle Products is offering millions of men across North America a product that will help them to overcome their sexual health challenges using a proprietary formula .

This wonderful male enhancement pill created by Bell Lifestyle Products is called Eroxil. Eroxil is formulated to help men support their sexual health challenges. Eroxil helps to address the challenges of male sexual dysfunction and helps to rejuvenate the entire reproductive system by optimizing sperm motility and supporting greater sexual performance.

Many across the country are suffering from the debilitating effects of a diminished sex life. It can often be difficult to overcome these kinds of challenges, which have both a psychological and a physiological component. Eroxil has been formulated using special nutrients such as polyamines and selenium by leading specialists in herbal medicine. Selenium is widely considered to be an essential micronutrient that has been shown to greatly support semen quality.

While high levels of selenium in the body can be detrimental to sperm production, one of the great advantages in the design of Eroxil is that it balances the level of selenium to ensure an ideal equilibrium for the person's body. This means that those taking Eroxil as part of their daily natural health regimen will feel only the benefits of selenium ingestion. In addition, the polyamines within the Bell Lifestyle Products solution are considered by researchers to be crucial to optimal tissue growth in the long-term. While these elements are found in great number in young people, polyamines decrease as the body ages.

Fortunately, the latest product testimonials show that polyamines may help optimize sexual health and performance. Now, happy customers from across the country are enjoying the benefits delivered by Eroxil:

“Three years ago my doctor put me on blood pressure medication and it was affecting my sex life. At 62 I didn't feel I was over the hill. After starting Bell Eroxil #6 my stamina was restored and I could perform like in my 20s again. My girlfriend really liked my new vitality,” said Denver Harris, 62 of Baltimore, MD.

It's one of the latest natural health products on the marketplace to address the cause and not just the symptoms of male sexual dysfunction. One of the great advantages of buying through a trusted source like Bell Lifestyle Products is that the company is offering a complete 100% satisfaction guarantee with every package of Eroxil sold. Buyers can order with confidence in knowing that their purchase is protected. It's this type of commitment that has helped to make Bell Lifestyle Products one of the leading retailers in the marketplace for quality natural health products.
