LONDON, UK (RPRN) 08/27/09
— Ben Leuty, an Account Manager at PR Company Punch Communications, will be celebrating his second year as part of the agency's team in the coming weeks.

As the very first appointment by founders Pete and Emma Goold, Ben has been part of Punch throughout its rapid growth over that last two years, which has included an entire office relocation and the further addition of 5 new members to its team.

Ben has progressed from the role of an Account Executive to an Account Manager over this period, taking on prominent roles on major accounts within the agency. Ben has consistently achieved high quality coverage on behalf of his clients, a highlight being recognition on the BBC Breakfast News in 2008, and has also been integral to the company's search engine optimisation (SEO) development.

Ben said: "It has been a fulfilling journey for me at Punch Communications so far, and I am focused on the continuation of my personal development, and also the development of the company as a whole.

"With our capabilities in social media and SEO we are making great progress and are constantly looking to grow in size. It has been great to be part of the evolution of Punch, and we are aiming to achieve more of the same in the future.”

The most prominent part of Ben’s experience is in the field of automotive PR, where he has developed a plethora of key relationships with journalists across the automotive sector. He has also worked on accounts in the education, sports and technology sectors.

Managing Director, Pete Goold, commented: “Ben has been a true asset to Punch since the start of his career with us, and always gives 100% on behalf of all of his clients. He is a true asset to the Punch team.”

Punch Communications has progressed in leaps and bounds over the past two years. Having developed its proficiency in the field of PR 2.0, the agency has been able to use new methods of communication such as social media and SEO to successfully promote its clients online as well as offline.
