Chris Isaak to

Host The Country Music Hall of Fame Benefit At Club Nokia

Multi-talented writer and performer Chris Isaak has been confirmed to host the Country Music Hall of Fame(r) and Museum's All for the Hall Los Angeles benefit at Club Nokia on Thursday, October 1.

Songwriter, musician, actor and television host Chris Isaak will emcee the one-of-a-kind musical evening, the centerpiece of which will be a guitar pull featuring Vince Gill, Emmylou Harris, Dwight Yoakam and Melissa Etheridge. Isaak himself will also perform.

Since his 1985 debut, singer-songwriter Chris Isaak has tunefully and artfully explored the good, the bad and the ugly of love, as well as other matters of profound human interest. Among his hits are his breakthrough international smash "Wicked Game," "Baby Did a Bad, Bad Thing" and "Somebody's Crying." Isaak is also an accomplished actor, appearing in numerous films including Married to the Mob, Silence of the Lambs and That Thing You Do! Isaak starred in his own acclaimed Showtime musical comedy series The Chris Isaak Show from 2001-2004; he currently hosts The Chris Isaak Hour, a music interview series on the Biography Channel. His latest album, Mr. Lucky (Reprise Records), was released in February.

The Country Music Hall of Fame and Museum is a not-for-profit, 501(c)(3) educational institution dedicated to saving America's songs of home for the benefit of all mankind. Accredited by the American Association of Museums, the Museum takes as its mission the preservation of country music and related vernacular music rooted in southern culture. Through exhibits, publications and programs, the Museum teaches its audiences about the enduring beauty and cultural importance of country music.
