Edmonton, ON (RPRN) 04/21/13
— EDMONTON & SHERWOOD PARK, ALBERTA - It's official - spring is here! And along with spring comes the emergence of wedding season. Pure Orthodontics realizes the immense financial strain couples face when organizing a wedding, and wish to help. Edmonton orthodontist Dr. Amer Hussain is offering a specially priced treatment package for soon-to-be brides and grooms in need of a smile upgrade before their wedding day. Along with Invisalign, patients will receive a professional-grade, take-home whitening kit to guarantee a dazzling smile that will last long after the cake is cut.

Nationally applauded for his modern treatment practices and expertise, Hussain encourages his engaged clients to consider a few smile improvements before the big day. Typically, weddings are the most photographed occasion of one's life. Patients should ready their grins to communicate wedded bliss, not dental neglect.

Pure Orthodontics' bridal package includes Invisalign, a series of invisible aligners that are proven to jump-start the straightening process with little discomfort. The clear aligners are the perfect solution for adults aiming to avoid visible braces. Invisalign works by comfortably shifting teeth into their ideal position with custom aligners that are replaced every two weeks.

"I want to ensure that my clients won't look at their wedding album and be embarrassed of their smiles," says Hussain. "My associates and I are eager to provide engaged couples with a wedding-worthy grin!"

Orthodontic situations vary, and some patients may require extended treatment time. Hussain recommends that brides and grooms schedule a consultation about a year before their wedding day. Invisalign treatment times range from 4-6 months.

Pure Orthodontics is a trusted provider of invisible and lingual braces in central Alberta. Couples interested in learning more about their bridal package and Invisalign costs can call the Pure Orthodontics staff today.
