09/11/11 — Potential buyers who are overwhelmed by possibilities and confused by the choices in today's market now have a friend in their search to bypass the marketing hype and find the best smartphone for the best price. Smartphonebasics.com has launched several new articles offering tips and links aimed at helping you make the right decision.

Choosing a smartphone can prove to be an overwhelming experience requiring research before deciding which brand to buy (Android, iPhone or something else), which data plan will work best and what makes one smartphone stand out from the other.

Smartphone Basics provides the resources needed to make great choices and the links to eBay sellers who have cheap smartphones available for purchase now. The best smartphone prices--and options-- are definitely online.

Among the new, easy to read articles on the site is "Best eBay Site for Smartphones" which dissects what phones other buyers are searching for most often, which can be an indicator of the best, most popular products. The story also reveals what sellers have the most cell phone accessories available for sale. One of them sold over 60,000 units via eBay last year!

Smartphone Basics offers informational reviews of the various types of smartphones, tells you what to look for in a phone, discusses the difference between iPhones and other types of smartphones and offers tips on the best and most valuable applications as it helps visitors navigate through the smartphone identity and data specifics.

The quick links to eBay smartphone sellers offer visitors a one stop shop to the smartphone of their choice, often at the possibility of hundreds of dollars below retail. With number portability and unlocking, buying a phone from an eBay retailer allows the buyer an option of phone plan possibilities once purchased. No need to feel pressured by one company, visitors can review smartphone features and shop around for the plan that will best suit their data needs.

Smartphones are becoming more and more popular as people require more access to email, media, and data in real time. Today, more people own a cellphone than have insurance and are more likely to sleep next to a phone than without one, so it is important to get the right smartphone by evaluating plans and phones ahead of purchase. Finding the best smartphone can be fun and the new content on Smartphone Basics will help visitors achieve their goal and get a phone they can use to help make life better.
