Mississauga, ON (RPRN)
03/15/14 — Studies (see University of Michigan) continue to link ingesting products rich in chamomile with reduced muscle-spams and improved urinary flow. A recent example is a study published in the American Chemical Society's Journal of Agricultural and Food Chemistry, which highlighted how drinking chamomile can help increase urinary levels of glycine, an amino acid that been shown to relieve muscle spasms[i]. This data is now being harnessed by a Mississauga company called Bell Lifestyle Products to highlight the benefits of chamomile for those suffering from bladder infection related issues.

Bell Lifestyle Products has found great success in the marketplace with their Bell Prostate Ezee Flow Tea. This popular addition to their inventory is designed to help ease urinary flow for those suffering from prostate and bladder infection symptoms.

For those who find themselves waking up every half an hour in the middle of the night to go to the bathroom, frequent urination can have a detrimental effect on their lifestyle and comfort. It becomes even more challenging for the millions of North Americans that suffer from a bladder infection on a regular basis, and who experience exceptional pain when going to the bathroom.

Many continue to search for a natural solution that will help provide a sense of lasting relief from the pain and discomfort of a bladder infection. Bell Prostate Ezee Flow Tea is the natural solution to help complement a complete bladder care regimen. It's a product that was developed by Bell Lifestyle Products President, Nick Jerch for his own personal comfort. It's now set to become a crucial component of every North American's daily health care routine. The Bell Prostate Ezee Flow Tea consists of 12 herbs, including cranberry and chamomile.

Chamomile is well known to many across the country for its calming effects when ingested. Medical researchers at the National Institute of Health at Case University are now studying the long-term benefits of chamomile as a natural health remedy in greater depth. The Case University study is assessing the potential of chamomile in supporting healthy prostate development and relieving inflammation of the prostate. While this study is on-going, it could help pave the way for greater use of chamomile as a natural health remedy for a broad range of prostate-related conditions. Consider for example the success experienced by current Bell Lifestyle Products customers:

"I suffered with prostate problems for the last 5-6 years. After the first 2 weeks this Bell Prostate Ezee Flow Tea #4a cut my trips to the bathroom in half and after the 3rd week it took me back where I was twenty years ago. Another good effect of this tea is a great night's sleep," said Paul Ross, 65, from Naples, FL.

In addition to the broad range of health benefits offered by Bell Prostate Ezee Flow Tea, the product has been designed to offer a tantalizing and satisfying taste. It's a natural health product that features a combination of the flavours of chamomile and cranberry, which interact with one another to form a soothing and aromatic blend.
