12/04/12 — Sharegate, the official No-Brainer Migration product has made a few important additions to its tools. The latest release includes powerful new features all created to simplify SharePoint migration. The team is pleased to announce that Sharegate now supports Import & Export to Excel before migrating. In addition to all other assets included with the tools, power users will now also have the possibility to:

- Massively edit all list item and document properties using Excel.
- Take advantage of Excel's effective and powerful formulas to enrich metadata.
- Assign metadata to documents and content coming from a file system.
- Divide the migration project by sending out the excel sheets and migrate by phases, only when ready.
- Have someone that knows the content update the sheets without having to install Sharegate.

As stated by Simon De Baene, Product Director at Sharegate

Our vision of the product is crystal clear. We want to provide the simplest SharePoint migration product in the industry. A tight integration with Excel was mandatory to achieve such an objective. The tools are now more efficient and powerful than ever.
